DETAILED ACTION

Applicants timely traversed the restriction/election requirement in the reply filed on October 28, 2005. Applicants' traversal is persuasive. Accordingly, this Office Action is in response to Applicants' response of 10/28/2005.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-26, drawn to method, apparatus, machine-readable medium of synthesizing, embedding audio signals using auditory scene parameter, classified in class 381, subclass 119.
 - II. Claims 27-54, drawn to encoding audio channels using cue codes in frequency domain including downmixing, classified in class 704, subclass 504.
 - III. Claims 55-72, drawn to decoding audio channels using cue codes in frequency domain including upmixing, classified in class 704, subclass 503.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II, III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and

(2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because in synthesizing, embedding audio signals using auditory scene parameter, cue codes in time or space can be used. The subcombination has separate utility such as encoding audio channels using cue codes in frequency domain including downmixing as in Group II, and decoding audio channels using cue codes in frequency domain including upmixing as in Group III can be used in other media processing such as in image processing.

3. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as encoding audio channels using cue codes in frequency domain including downmixing, and invention has separate utility such as decoding audio channels using cue codes in frequency domain including upmixing. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, nor required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

In addition, because the inventions of Group I, II, and III have a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, a serious burden is imposed on the examiner to perform a complete search of the defined area in both the patent and non-patent literature. Therefore, because of the reason given above, the restriction set forth is proper and not to restrict would impose a serious burden in the examination of this application.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Con P. Tran whose telephone number is (571) 272-7532. The examiner can normally be reached on M - F (8:30 AM - 5:00 PM).

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor Vivian C. Chin can be reached on (571) 272-7848. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
